

Scramble Seen For Leadership Of Republicans

By JACK BELL

Washington, Nov. 8 (AP)—A scramble for Republican party leadership—with Harold E. Stassen among those taking part—apparently is in the making as an aftermath of last Tuesday's election.

Despite an assertion by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey that he has no plans to step down as titular GOP head, his second straight defeat for the presidency may leave him little to say about future Republican policies.

These policies largely will be shaped by the Republican minority in Congress.

There such familiar figures as Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, Senator Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska, House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts and floor leader Charles A. McNamara of Indiana will be in the saddle.

But none of these is a stand-out now for the Republican presidential nomination in distant 1952.

Fuller Park Crime Wave Investigated

Death Of Chicago Boy, 13, Reveals Sex Orgies

Chicago, Nov. 8 (AP)—An investigation into the slaying last week of a 13-year-old boy has disclosed what police described yesterday as an "appalling" practice of "degrading orgies" in the Southside Fuller Park area.

Judge Robert Dunne of juvenile court said that Rafael Villanor, 15, had signed a statement that he beat and strangled his 13-year-old playmate, William Gervais and that that sex perversion was the motive.

Alex Napoli, an assistant state's attorney, said an indictment charging Villanor with murder would be sought this week. Meanwhile, the youth was held without charge by juvenile authorities as police began "a cleanup of the whole neighborhood."

Gervais' body was found Friday morning in an abandoned electrical conduit vault near the secluded section of the park where police said the orgies had taken place. Shortly before the body was found, Gervais' twice-widowed mother, Mrs. Clara Foote, 45, went to police to report the boy missing and died of a heart ailment.

Magician Keating Slashes His Wrists

New York, Nov. 8 (AP)—A man who identified himself as Fred Keating, 45, a magician widely known for making a bird in a cage disappear, was taken to a hospital early today with both wrists slashed. Police said his injuries were self-inflicted.

Keating was a headliner in vaudeville for years with an act featuring a program of magical tricks and a humorous line of chatter. Recently he has appeared in night clubs as a magician and master of ceremonies.

Airlift To Berlin Crippled By Fog

Berlin, Nov. 8 (AP)—Fog crippled the Airlift to blockaded Berlin for 15 hours last night and today. Flights to Tempelhof Airport were knocked out completely and activity at Gatow Field, in the British zone, was heavily reduced. By early afternoon, however, supply planes were landing at eight-minute intervals.

Democrats Prepare To Challenge Vote For Sen. Ferguson

Hook Plans Injunction; Errors Reported

Detroit, Nov. 8 (AP)—Democratic party leaders in five counties were searching today for evidence of reported irregularities in tabulating the vote for U. S. senator as a preliminary to possible challenging the election of Republican Homer Ferguson.

Democratic National Committeeman George S. Fitzgerald said party chairmen in Ingham, Jackson, Genesee, Oakland and Shiawassee counties had been asked for specific evidence that the vote for Ferguson and his Democratic opponent, Frank E. Hook of Ironwood, had been reported improperly.

Fitzgerald telegraphed Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., on Saturday advising him that Hook might seek a court injunction Monday to prevent certification of Ferguson as the winning candidate.

Sunday, however, Fitzgerald said no court action would be taken immediately because the secretary of state's office cannot certify a candidate until the state board of canvassers meets around Thanksgiving time.

The Democratic national committeeman said the delay would enable party leaders to probe the reports of irregularities.

Fitzgerald said Oakland county reported "quite a few errors there" and "Jackson county says the tabulations were wrong there." He added that "the word from Shiawassee county is that more votes were reported than the registration lists allowed."

Anti-Reds Sweep French Elections

Popular Republicans (MRP)—15.

Others—13.

Of the RPF's 99 seats, 55 belong to the party outright and the others are from affiliated groups. The Communists now hold 84 seats. Their drop to 6 occurred largely because of a change in the voting system that permitted all non-Communist parties to join coalitions against them.

Prisoner Married, Then Goes To Death

Convicted Slayer Holds Hands On Honeymoon

Bellefonte, Pa., Nov. 8 (AP)—David P. Taranow, 23-year-old convicted slayer who was married in a prison ceremony last Friday, died in the electric chair early today.

Taranow was driven to the Central Pennsylvania prison here last night after spending a 10-hour honeymoon holding hands with his bride, auburn-haired Stella Noto of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the warden's office at Broadmeadows prison, Media, Pa., where they were married.

The ceremony was performed by a prison guard who is also a justice of the peace. Present were Taranow's parents and his nine-month-old daughter, child of the girl he married.

Taranow, a New Yorker, was sentenced to die in the electric chair for the holdup-slaying of Francis L. Devan, July 9, 1947. A three-judge court said the slaying was "coldly planned" and "coldly executed" by Taranow who had been picked up by Devan as a hitchhiker.

After the wedding, Taranow sat holding his bride's hand until guards ended the strange honeymoon to drive him to Bellefonte. In leaving his bride, Taranow said only one word—"Goodbye"—as he walked from the warden's office. He went to the electric chair calmly.

Winner of Election Bet Gets 11-Mile Wheelbarrow Trip

Princeton, V. Va., Nov. 8 (AP)—That GOP elephant sort of fell on Isaac J. Sweeney, 64, reclined against cushions and brandished a President Truman poster.

He had wagered on Republican Thomas E. Dewey in the recent presidential election. Yesterday he paid off by pushing Henry Brewster 11 long miles in a rubber-tired wheelbarrow. The trip over a hilly highway from Princeton to Bluefield took nearly six hours.

Sweeney, husky and in his 30ties, wore a big Dewey sign, while Brewster, 64, reclined against cushions and brandished a President Truman poster. "One good thing," groaned Sweeney, "Henry only weighs 130 pounds." Both men work as machinists in the Virginia Railway shops here.

Sigler Calls Legislature To Special Session Dec. 6

Cares Shed In Sunshine By Truman

Key West, Fla., Nov. 8 (AP)—Harry S. Truman shed the cares of state today to frolic in the Florida sunshine.

The president of the United States started a vacation at this naval submarine base in the company of a small group of White House cronies among whom he could relax and, for the time being, forget some of the problems of his office.

For the moment, his main concern was to:

1—Bask in the sunshine in colorful trunks.

2—Walk in comparative privacy around the submarine naval base where he is spending his fifth period of rest.

The gray-haired chief executive adopted a costume which as he has worn on previous visits were—light tan slacks, a sports shirt and two-tone shoes, for his walks—and swim trunks for his visits to the beach.

He's In No Hurry

Many decisions involving the changes in his administration may be made before Mr. Truman returns to Washington two weeks from now. But for the present, he is in no hurry to act.

Any dismissal or resignation must be followed by an appointment. And the president has decided to proceed with care in any new appointments.

Authoritative sources said the president is pleased with most of his cabinet and their support during the campaign.

It is known that he is looking around for a new secretary of defense to replace James V. Forrestal when the latter steps out, and, so the official story goes, he will not press Robert A. Lovett to stay on as undersecretary of state.

Polke around the president are speculating whether he will name Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Wisconsin state to an important post. Wallgren, a former member of the Senate and of the Truman investigating committee, is one of the chief executive's most intimate friends.

He was defeated for re-election although Mr. Truman carried the state. Wallgren, if he is interested, can be assured of an important post under the president.

Wallgren is expected to join the president here before Mr. Truman returns to the capital.

Mill Worker Loses Arm, Walks Mile To Portland Ambulance

Boring, Ore., Nov. 8 (AP)—A lumber mill worker had his arm cut off at the shoulder yesterday and then walked over a mile to this town to get an ambulance to Portland.

State Police said Henry Francis Meeker, age 62, of Sandy, was given a "fair" chance of recovering at a Portland hospital.

He was cleaning a planer at a mill near here when his right garment sleeve tangled in the machine and pulled his arm into the cutter. He was alone. He first attempted to drive the distance in his automobile.

Southern Minnesota Has Snow Flurries

Chicago, Nov. 8 (AP)—Narrow bands of snow flurries had developed today from Southern Minnesota through Northwestern Iowa and Eastern Nebraska and through Colorado and Southern Wyoming.

Elsewhere throughout the nation skies were clear and temperatures generally near normal. The coldest spot was Casper, Wyo., where the mercury dipped to nine degrees above zero. Bismarck, N. D., had a minimum of 20 degrees and Salt Lake City 24.

In the Great Lakes region, the wind was diminishing and temperatures were rising.

Prepare For Eight Years Of Red War, Chiang Warns China

Nanking, Nov. 8 (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek, far from down and out, warned China today to get ready for eight more years of war on the Reds.

China's president said he will not make peace with the Communists. China's only chance for peace, he said, is to exterminate the Reds on the field of battle.

The statement was made to 1,000 Kuomintang (party) members and legislators.

Current peace rumors are Communist inspired, said Chiang. He apologized for the failure of economic and currency reforms and said new measures to bolster the situation are being drawn. Likewise, he declared, new life is being put into the nation's armies.

Rep. Thomas Faces Charges Of Fraud Against Government

Washington, Nov. 8 (AP)—Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.), chairman of the House un-American activities committee, was indicted today on charges of conspiring to defraud the government of his congressional office.

His former secretary, Miss Helen Campbell, was charged jointly with him by a federal grand jury.

The jury has been investigating published charges of payroll irregularities in Thomas' office. He was called last week to testify but declined to do so.

The indictment accused Thomas and Miss Campbell of conspiring to maintain fictitious employees in Thomas' House office so the salaries paid to these persons could be routed into Thomas' bank account.

Deweys In Arizona For Two-Week Rest

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 8 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York today began a two-week rest at an Arizona guest ranch.

When Dewey visited Arizona during his unsuccessful campaign for the presidency on the Republican ticket, he promised to return to enjoy more of the state's warm sun. Before leaving New York by plane yesterday he said he was keeping that campaign promise.

"What we need most," Dewey said on his arrival last night, "is sun and rest."

In the party with him are his mother, Mrs. Annie Dewey; his wife and their two sons.

The Dewey party received a real wild west welcome when their American Airlines plane came into the airport here from Chicago. A group of 20 vigilantes dashed forward, firing their 45's in welcome.

Acting Gov. Dan E. Garvey of Arizona, who won election on the Democratic ticket for the governorship in last Tuesday's voting, extended the official greetings of the state to Mr. Dewey.

Also in the welcoming party was Al Beuhman, Republican, who lost in the contest for Congress from the second Arizona congressional district.

Meyers Conviction On False Testimony Upheld By Tribunal

Washington, Nov. 8 (AP)—The U. S. circuit court of appeals today upheld the conviction of Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers on charges of inducing another person to lie under oath to a Senate committee.

The court split 2-1. Meyers has been in jail since last March 14, serving an 18 months to five years sentence imposed after his conviction in U. S. district court.

The indictment alleged that Miss Campbell's niece, Myra Midkiff, and a maid in Miss Campbell's home, Arlette Minor, were carried on the Thomas office payroll and received monthly checks without actually working for the government.

It was alleged that Miss Midkiff and Miss Minor, upon receiving their government checks, indorsed them over to Miss Campbell who deposited them in her personal checking account. Thereafter, according to the grand jury, Miss Campbell withdrew this money by check and deposited it in the account of Rep. Thomas in the First National Bank of Allendale, N. J.

The indictment said that "with the intent of concealing and covering up the fraudulent and fictitious employment" of Miss Midkiff, the congressman and Miss Campbell prepared income tax returns in her name, with Thomas paying the tax due on the salary listed for her from the government.

The indictment formally charged Thomas and Miss Campbell with a conspiracy "to defraud the United States of its money and property."

Handkerchief Only Clue In Bed Murder

Wife Slain, Newsdealer Escapes Robbers

Philadelphia, Nov. 8 (AP)—A handkerchief dropped by one of two bandits was the only tangible clue police said they had today in the murder of a newsdealer's wife.

The woman, Mrs. Helen Pietrzak, 31, was shot to death in her Kensington home yesterday after the bandits had trussed her and her husband, Theodore, 35, in their bed with a clothesline.

Sgt. Samuel Ricciardi of the homicide squad said Pietrzak escaped the killer's bullets only by feigning death. The first of three shots fired by one of the bandits from a .38 caliber pistol apparently was meant for Pietrzak.

The shot, however, missed Pietrzak's head and plowed through the top of the bed. His hands and feet tied, Pietrzak lunged to the floor and rolled under the bed.

Detectives said either of the two bullets fired at Mrs. Pietrzak, both of which struck her in the head, could have caused death.

Detectives said the slayers escaped with $600 in cash. Pietrzak had brought the money home after closing his newsstand late Saturday night. Ricciardi said it was probable the killers had followed Pietrzak home and entered the house after he retired.

The handkerchief was apparently dropped as the men fled.

FISHERMAN DROWNS
Newaygo, (AP)—John Gastra, 26, of Grand Rapids, drowned Saturday when he slid off an eight-foot wall of Croton Dam on the Mullett River while fishing nine miles northeast of here.

Income Tax Cut Revision Is Predicted

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

Washington, Nov. 8 (AP)—Rep. Eberhart (D-Pa.) said today he looks for President Truman to urge a revision of the 1948 income tax cut.

The idea, said Eberhart, would be to pass more of the savings along to low income groups by boosting the levies for those in the upper brackets.

EXPENSES GOING UP

Washington, Nov. 8 (AP)—House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said today last Tuesday's Democratic victory probably will mean higher federal taxes.

"Indications now are that there will be more instead of less taxes," he told a news conference. "If we are going to spend we can't reduce taxes."

Eberhart, a member of the tax-framing House Ways and Means committee, also predicted that Mr. Truman will revive his excess profits tax proposal.

Lower Prices Wanted
However, some of the President's advisers are known to take a dim view of such a move because of its possible effects on business.

There has been considerable speculation that before Mr. Truman reaches any definite decision on business taxes he may renew his plea to industry to lower prices—and profits.

The President had little to say about an excess profits tax during his campaign. But he took several husky swipes at the income tax cut bill which the 80th Congress wrote into law over his veto.

He called it a "rich man's bill." The main features of that measure are (1) a $100 hike in the personal exemption, making it $600 instead of $500; (2) extension of the community property principle to all states, letting husbands and wives split the family income for tax-saving purposes, and (3) percentage cuts in tax

Drink Spree Blamed For Shooting Orgy

Four Persons Wounded By Skinny Ex-Convict

Gastonia, N. C., Nov. 8 (AP)—A skinny little ex-convict today blamed excessive drink for a mad two-and-a-half hours in which four persons were wounded before police subdued him.

Ray Aldridge, 21, twice paroled after being convicted of robbery and larceny, chased his parents and visiting relatives from his house yesterday, and barricaded himself inside. When police arrived he opened fire.

State, county and Gastonia officers besieged the two-story home with rifle, pistol and machinegun fire and tear gas. The police fire was returned.

Wounded were Patrolman J. D. English, 32, and Patrolman R. H. Smith, 24, both hit by shotgun pellets; Henry Chastain, 41, a neighbor, and James Ayers, 26, a bystander, both struck by rifle bullets.

After the firing had broken windows, china and other household goods, Aldridge appeared at the front door, his hands high above his head. He was untouched by police bullets.

He told newsmen he had been drinking and taken a pill known as a "yellow jack" or "goof ball."

Execution Of Ten Seamen Postponed In Balkan Crisis

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

Paris, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Greek government responded to an unprecedented plea by the president of the U. N. general assembly by postponing the execution of 10 seamen who had been scheduled to die today.

Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian foreign minister and president of the assembly, asked the postponement yesterday in cables to King Paul and Premier Themistokles Sophoulis.

Evatt said the executions would seriously interfere with attempts he is pushing here for a "Balkan Peace Conference" in which the Greeks would sit down to negotiate with Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria.

The appeal came in the midst of a Greek domestic political crisis. Sophoulis said today he will resign as soon as the Greek debate in the U. N. has been completed.

Salary Increases For State Officers Will Be Considered

Governor Expected Back In Lansing Next Week

Lansing, Nov. 8 (AP)—Governor Sigler today called the legislature into special session December 6 to pass on salary increases for elective state officials and legislators.

The executive office released a letter to Lieutenant Governor Eugene C. Keyes in which Sigler said he would return from a post-election holiday in Tucson, Ariz., next week.

Sigler asked Keyes to take no action toward calling the legislature before his return.

Keyes agreed not to do so.

Gas Tax Is Issue
George R. Averill, Sigler's executive secretary, said the governor would decide after his return whether he would open the session to other subjects.

The announcement was made at a conference between Averill, Keyes, Attorney General Eugene F. Black and Victor C. Anderson, Sigler's legal adviser.

It was called because Keyes threatened to call a special session without Sigler's consent and to open the session to consideration of higher highway taxes. A call for a special session tomorrow was prepared last week and then cancelled when Keyes made his threat.

Keyes had said that if there was enough legislative demand he would introduce the question of increasing the state gasoline tax for highway improvement purposes and also a boost in the auto

Hope Bright To End Maritime Walkout

Employers And Strikers Agree On Formula

San Francisco, Nov. 8 (AP)—A formula for reopening negotiations held promise today of quick settlement in the 67-day West Coast Maritime strike.

Resumption of negotiations awaits the arrival of national CIO representatives from Washington. Employers and strikers agreed last night on a formula which they said they hoped not only would end the strike but would insure waterfront peace in the future. The agreement called for the national CIO to participate.

The national CIO and the San Francisco Employers' Council would underwrite any accord negotiators might reach, the agreement said, and act as a check on future disputes that might threaten strikes or lockouts. The CIO would in effect police its local unions and the Council its local waterfront-employer members. (The Council is a general organization covering all lines of business here, not just shipping firms).

Leaders of the CIO Longshoremen, CIO Marine Cooks and Stewards, and Waterfront Employers all approved and initialed the two-way peace plan last night. Three other unions are involved in the strike but are not likely to present obstacles to a coastwide return to work.

Wounded were Patrolman J. D. English, 32, and Patrolman R. H. Smith, 24, both hit by shotgun pellets; Henry Chastain, 41, a neighbor, and James Ayers, 26, a bystander, both struck by rifle bullets.

After the firing had broken windows, china and other household goods, Aldridge appeared at the front door, his hands high above his head. He was untouched by police bullets.

Pat Farrell Elected Treasurer 1949 U. P. Older Boys' Meeting

Pat Farrell, one of 22 members of the Escanaba delegation attending the Upper Peninsula Older Boys' conference in Iron Mountain, was elected treasurer of the organization at the final business meeting held Saturday. He was the only Escanaban to be elected to office. Charles Benzinger, of Escanaba, presided over the 1948 conference, attended by 330 delegates from every county in the U. P.

Ishpeming extended an invitation for the 1949 conference, but no action was taken. Dan Van Eyck, of Manistique, was elected assistant secretary of the conference.

Other officers elected were Herbert Carlson, of Newberry; president; Duwane Pierson, of Iron Mountain, vice president; Bill Thomas, Kingsford, assistant vice president; Arthur Piirto, Ishpeming, secretary; Ted Taipalus, Sault Ste. Marie, assistant treasurer.

Youth Leader Speaks
Other Escanabans attending were Robert Carter, Gerald Baker, Ben Nelson, Harold Peterson, Dale Jackson, Charles Neumeier, Don Olin, Jack Myron, Richard Gilbert, Gary Abrahamson, William Elliot, Russell Bolm, Robert Myrsten, Robert Schrader, Fred Johnson, Ronald Hirm, Wayne Sundquist, James Chapekis, Jon Baldwin and George Rouman. The youths were accompanied by their faculty delegate, Bradford Loveland.

One of the outstanding addresses made during the conference was that by Frank Slutz, of Dayton, Ohio, national youth leader, on the subject of public speaking. The theme of the conference was "Dynamic Leadership in an Atomic Age."

"Public speaking is an asset which every young man should cultivate," Slutz emphasized.

"A youth, or a man can be a fine leader, yet if he lacks speaking ability and the power to sway his listeners, he will fall short of his mark."

Great World Speakers
Slutz said young leaders should not only teach themselves, but should learn from the great world speakers. "You can study fundamentals of speech for 10 years and still not reach your goals, if you don't learn right," he added. "The great world speakers learned the hard way. Many had to teach themselves. Not a few had to overcome personal speech difficulties."

"It is up to you. If you want to win, you can do it. The only man who can win, however, is the man who is all set to win no matter how much it is going to hurt him."

"Read the speeches of historically famous men. See how they chose their words and subject-matter. Listen to good radio speakers and the men who daily address the public on every front. If possible, take speech courses in high school and college."

It Will Be Your Task
"It often seems to the uninitiated that the man who is speaking has an easy task. All he has to do is get up and talk. However, there is much more to it. The man who is a good speaker has learned 'the ropes.' Take a building, for example. Looking at it, you see only the surface structure. Yet many engineering principles, unseen by the spectator, went into the construction. Otherwise the building—if not properly constructed—would topple."

"Every famous speaker has had to deal with this, and make it a part of his own task. It will be your task, also, if you are to succeed."

One of the most important elements in public speaking, said Slutz, is the "selling by the speaker of himself, to his audience. If you make awkward gestures or mispronounce words, your listeners will notice immediately, and will be critical."

Manner Important
"Your manners on the platform are vitally important. Without them, you will fail. Ease of speech and delivery are keystones. Win your audience with firmness, laughter and seriousness. One of the oldest 'tricks' of the platform is to 'make 'em laugh and make 'em cry.' Appeal to the reason and emotions of your audience. Above all, be sincere."

Group discussions of youth problems were held at the high school. The sessions were in charge of John Less, of Detroit, assistant state secretary of the Michigan YMCA. Clifton Drury of East Lansing, also assistant state YMCA secretary, is in charge of the conference.

Kiwanis Minstrel Show Scores Hit At Opener

Escanaba Kiwanis minstrel players strutted and sang their way to a high entertainment notch last Saturday night.

A capacity audience of children heartily received the first annual minstrel produced by the Kiwanis in William W. Oliver auditorium. The same show will be given tonight and tomorrow night at 8 p. m., in the junior high auditorium.

The jokes were rated good by those who sat close enough to the mid-section to catch the innuendo. Perhaps the children were over-enthusiastic with applause and good humor, thus inhibiting free flow of sound.

Lively Opening
The show opens with a group of lively, self-entertaining darkies on a southern wharf, awaiting the arrival of the "Showboat."

SOLD OUT!
The ticket committee announced today that all seats for tonight's and tomorrow night's performances of the Kiwanis Minstrel show are sold out.

Delta County's Probate Judge William Miller is captain of the ship, and pilots the audience to the various entertainment sequels of the show.

There's a lot to be enjoyed in the minstrel. Scenery is colorfully attractive and the songs wonderful. It shows polish, good humor, and hard work.

Especially jolly are the "Hallelujah" of Arabella, sung by Mrs. Claire Garard; "Shiftless" Jack Morin's "Old Man River"; Bernard Ammel's "Without a Song"; George Carroll's "Old Black Joe"; and J. Alton Mallman's pantomimic song.

There are some good musical numbers by women too. Included are Anne Hendrickson's number and the Witham Twins in rare costume for "Mighty Lak a Rose" and other favorites.

Chief of Police Mike Ettenhofer, Sgt. Phil Bruce and Cliff Beaudoin sr., as nymph-like feminine dancers; a "mystery woman's" vocal rendition of "My Man," a cornet and trombone solo by Charles Benzinger and Harold Cloutier, and vocal selections by Tom Giansanti, Irma Gries and Joanne Hemes add to the evening's measure of fun.

Charley Brown's musical number and dance can't be described. You'll have to see for yourself. Arthur Vezina as tuba, and Kryn Bloom's angelic troubles with a devil in red underwear provoke hearty applause, while Manley Anderson gets all the sales diplomacy of Lee Garrard in the latter's efforts to get the man to try it. Incidentally Anderson's costume is a riot.

Endmen Are Good
Endmen to Interlocutor Vernon Berg are John Anthony as Lightning, Dr. Neal (Big Red Foot) Bailey as Meatball Dan, Danielson as the imitable Jughead, Norman Hansen as Knot-head, Guy Knutson as Hambone.

CNW VETERANS HOLD MEETING More Than 150 Attend Annual Dinner

More than 150 members and guests attended the annual dinner meeting of the Peninsula division of the Chicago and North Western Railway's Veterans association at the Dells on Sunday.

Principal speaker was W. C. Upton of Lake Villa, Ill., secretary of the system association, who spoke of the organization of the group, in 1925 and its growth to a membership of more than 5,000. Purpose of the association is to give retired men an opportunity of getting together and men in active service a chance to renew old acquaintances.

The only requirement for membership is 25 years or more service with the C&NW railway. It was organized by employees and is conducted solely by the members.

Oldest Employee Attends
According to Mr. Upton, more than 200 members of this association have served the company more than 50 years. The second oldest man in point of service on the railroad is August A. Johnson, agent at Negaunee, who has been in continuous service since 1884 and was present at the meeting Sunday.

W. H. Roberts, system president of the association and superintendent of safety of the C&NW railway, with offices at Chicago, brought greetings from the general offices of the association, and outlined the benefits to be derived from membership in the association.

Guests at the meeting included: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kline and daughter. Mr. Kline is a former superintendent of the C&NW railway at Mason City, Iowa, and a member of the Veterans association. He is now general superintendent of the Lake Superior & Ishpeming railroad, with headquarters at Marquette.

Mr. McCullough of Marquette, former C&NW railway locomotive engineer from the Iowa division, who worked out of Escanaba in 1893.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McIntyre of Antigo, Wis. Mr. McIntyre, retired superintendent of the Ashland division in a brief talk reviewed his activities since retirement. He is now engaged in the insurance business in Antigo and active in Red Cross work.

Leppa Heads Local Unit
Thomas Nelson of Wells, formerly of Little Lake, who was the first man pensioned, and M. E. Vandenberg of Escanaba, the last employee to go on the retirement list, were also present, along with members from various points on the Peninsula division.

George Harvey served as toastmaster. Entertainment features included a solo by Lois Lemke, a comedy act by Adolf Lundberg of Iron Mountain, a solo by Earl C. Pray, Mrs. William Ramspeck played the piano accompaniments.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the meeting was composed of Mrs. W. V. Leppa, George Welter and Roger Moras. Similar dinners are held at each of the division points on the railroad, in addition to the annual system dinner at Chicago.

The birthday anniversary of Supt. T. M. Cassiday was celebrated at the dinner meeting. A large birthday cake decorated the table.

Walter Leppa, C&NW railway dispatcher here, was elected president of the local unit of the Veterans association at Sunday's meeting here. George Harvey, locomotive engineer, was named vice president, and Roger Moras, local dispatcher, secretary.

DRIVE GAINING IN MOMENTUM

Two Dozen Solicitors In Business District

A force of two dozen solicitors is conducting the canvass in the Escanaba business district for the Delta County Community Fund, Claude Tobin, Jr., city chairman, revealed this morning.

Tobin emphasized that the solicitation is for the support of six deserving agencies participating in the Community Chest and asked contributors to be as generous as possible. A goal of $18,000 is established for the county of which $11,000 is the goal for Escanaba.

Solicitors in addition to Tobin are Dave Alperovitz, Thaxter Shaw, Norman Hansen, Bruce Brackett, Lowell Farrell, Dean Connell, Francis Gustafson, Frank Mulally, Bill Heminger, Daniel Stein, Fred Saykly, Peter Mollinaire, Ronald Koth, Art Westby, James Davidson, Phil Herro, Gerald Cleary, Gene Raymond, Lyle Utt, Robert Schwalbach, Bud Rooney, John Bissell and Gust Asp.

Tobin reported that all wage earners will be contacted either directly by the solicitors or by mail.

Smog Victims Get Vacation For Week In North Carolina

Donora, Pa., Nov. 8 (AP) — A week's rest in North Carolina was in store today for 21 persons who became ill in the smothering smog suspected of causing the deaths of 19 persons in this western Pennsylvania community.

Soon after the disaster two weeks ago, the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington, N. C., and the Chamber of Commerce of Wrightsville Beach, N. C., extended an invitation for up to 50 persons to spend a week in the South with all expenses paid.

The offer was accepted by 10 residents immediately and 11 other were added to the list over the past weekend.

Elizabeth Ostranger, secretary of the town board of health, said yesterday the 21 now signed up for the trip will leave Wednesday or Thursday, flying both to North Carolina and back to Pittsburgh.

Miss Ostranger said she expects a second group of 20 to 30 to go to North Carolina when the first group returns.

"It's truly a wonderful example of Southern hospitality," she said.

Father And Three Young Sons Perish In Fire At Lapeer

Lapeer, Mich., Nov. 8 (AP) — A father and his three young sons burned to death last night when fire destroyed their three-room farm home three miles west of Lum in Lapeer county.

The dead are Walter Raymond, 43; Randy 4½, Charles 3, and Lorne, five months.

Mrs. Raymond, who had been visiting at the home of a sister, arrived at the scene during the height of the blaze but was unable to save her family.

She ran back to the home of her sister, Mrs. Linwood Hagenmeister, and summoned her brother-in-law.

He was able to reach through a window and pull out Lorne's crib but was unable to reach Raymond or the two boys.

It was believed the victims were asleep when the fire started.

The baby was taken to Lapeer hospital but was dead on admission.

Woman Who Liked Parties Accused of Embezzling $34,479

Philadelphia, Nov. 8 (AP) — A blonde $40-a-week novelty shop worker accused of embezzling $34,479 from her employer over the past two years told police she took the money because she liked to entertain.

"I like this way of living, and I couldn't do it on $40 a week," detectives yesterday quoted 31-year-old Mrs. Helen Morganstein as saying when she was arrested in her well-furnished apartment.

She was charged with embezzling the money from Brantz Co., dealers in novelties and toys. Detectives said the woman told them she spent most of the money entertaining friends at New York theaters and on trips to Atlantic City and other resorts.

Mrs. Morganstein told detectives her husband, Louis, knew nothing of her business activities.

"Louis is innocent," detectives quoted her as saying. "He never questioned me in connection with my expenditures and never knew a thing about it."

She said her husband is now working in another city as a shoe salesman.

Detroit Has Bad Traffic Toll Record

By The Associated Press

Detroit police began an all-out drive against traffic law violators today (Monday) after three Detroiters died and 73 persons were injured during the weekend.

Accident Prevention Bureau spokesmen said it was "probably the worst November week-end traffic record in the city's history good weather considered."

Four persons died in outstate traffic accidents.

The 323 accidents involving vehicles in Detroit Saturday and Sunday were more than 10 times the 1948 daily average.

Orders to give out tickets every time they see a violation or answer an accident call went out Monday morning to Detroit's 4,200 policemen.

Even beat policemen were told to whistle moving violators to the curb or commandeer a passing car to pursue them. The instructions also apply to policemen off-duty.

"We will hit hard and often," Traffic director James M. Lupton declared.

Two of the Detroit deaths were pedestrians. Vincent Bendene, 51, was fatally hurt Saturday when hit by a car on Southfield Road near Michigan Avenue in Dearborn. Lester W. Ford, Jr., of Owosso, was released pending further investigation.

Nathaniel Goodwin, 62, died Sunday of injuries suffered Friday when he was struck by a bus while crossing a street.

The third Detroit, Wesley Curtis, 23, died shortly after the car in which he was riding struck a parked car and careened through a fence early Sunday.

license (weight) tax. Sigler has been opposed to these increases in the past.

Canvass Delayed
The governor's letter to Keyes specified that until he returns, at least, the sole question before the lawmakers will be legislation to implement amendments No. 3 and 4 which were passed at the Nov. 2 election.

These lift the constitutional ceilings on the salaries of state officers and legislators.

Black told the conferees today that the salary question could be acted on by the legislature legally before the official canvass is completed of the Nov. 2 election.

The state board of canvassers can delay its action 40 days from the election, Black said, explaining the board has agreed to wait for the legislature.

Divorced Parents Help Defend Son Accused of Murder

New York, Nov. 8 (AP)—A divorced couple united today in defense of their 19-year-old son, charged with slaying a Canadian business man at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel here.

"We'll stick together for the kid," the father, Ralph Van Nostrun Barrows, said following a reunion with his former wife, Mrs. Yvonne Burdick, 39, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

"This is a completely unbelievable thing," exclaimed the mother who said she had come here to defend her son. The parents, divorced in 1942, have another child.

The accused youth, Ralph Edward Barrows, was held without bail today after pleading innocent to the slaying of Colin Cameron MacKellar, 56-year-old textile executive. MacKellar's body was found Friday in his hotel suite. Death was attributed to a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Inquest In Murder Of Eight Delayed; Bullets Shattered

Chester, Pa., Nov. 8 (AP)—Inquests into the deaths of eight persons killed by a crazed gunman were delayed today because the bullets fired in the victims' bodies had disintegrated.

Ballistics experts reported yesterday that physicians who performed autopsies on the victims of the shooting fray Saturday found only small metal particles which could not be used for analysis.

Chief Detective Fred Jack said the killer, Melvin Collins, used 22 caliber stub-nosed long-head bullets, drilling small holes in the nose of each slug.

The small hole in each bullet Jack said, formed an air pocket causing the slug to explode on hitting the bodies of the seven men and one woman slain by Collins as he fired from his barricaded second floor room overlooking the Chester business district.

Jack said Collins shot himself to death after the other shootings.

POWER DELAY IS EXPLAINED

Service Out 3½ Hours In North Escanaba

City officials this morning explained the power outage in North Escanaba Saturday as a series of unfortunate developments. All of North Escanaba north of Third avenue north was cut off of electrical power from 11:50 a. m. to 3 p. m.

The Upper Michigan Light and Power company is laying a new 33,000 volt line to Escanaba and was extending the circuit to the North Escanaba sub-station. It was necessary to cross an existing 6600 volt line. A city official granted permission to cut the switch in the belief that the changeover could be made in a short period of time while slack was being taken on the new cable being strung. Several breakdowns in equipment, however, caused the line to loosen several times. Service was finally restored at three o'clock Saturday afternoon.

City Manager A. V. Aronson and Electrical Superintendent Hugo Lillquist declared this morning that as a standard policy the city never disrupts electric service without first notifying the customers and that it was an error in judgment by a subordinate that caused the disruption of service in North Escanaba Saturday. The situation was aggravated by the difficulties encountered in connecting the new power line.

Although the new line is designed to carry 33,000 volts, it will be energized at first with a load of 6,000 volts until proper supporting equipment, such as transformers, insulators, etc., are installed. The additional power line will be in operation for the holiday lighting season, it is indicated.

Rotary Host To Potato Growers

Twenty-six of the leading potato growers of Delta county, including six 4-H Club potato club members, were guests today noon of the Escanaba Rotary club at its luncheon meeting at the Delta hotel.

Joseph Ivens was chairman of the program committee for the meeting, and the adult potato growers were introduced by J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent, and the 4-H Club potato club members were presented by Mel Nyquist, county club agent. Heirman announced that the recent U. P. Potato Show in Iron Mountain 101 growers had yields of 500 or more bushels an acre—and 30 of those 101 were from Delta county. The county agent said he was confident that Frank Falkies, Baldwin township grower, would again be Michigan potato growing champion this year with a yield of 847.2 bushels an acre.

Nyquist introduced the 4-H potato club members, including Fred McFadden, 15, of Cornell, who is senior 4-H premium potato grower of the Upper Peninsula. Last year Fred held the 4-H Junior premium grower title. An outstanding 4-H yield record was made by Lowell Steff, 15 of Cornell, with 697 bushels an acre in his first year in the 4-H contest.

The Rotarians and their guests were entertained by a quartet of senior high school students, Mary and Nancy Witham, John Degnan and Dick Johnson, with songs and dances.

Guests of the Rotary club were as follows:

4-H Club potato growers Fred McFadden, Lowell Steff, Billy and Gerald Williamson, Billy Woodard and George McFadden.

Adult potato growers, all of whom have high yields ranging up to 500, 600 and 700 bushels an acre and over: Ralph Knaus, Octave Carrigan, Grey Knaus, Phillip Beauchamp, Jule Depuydt, Harold Woodard, Jules Van Damme, Gerald Steff, Joe Steff, Frank Falkies, Clarence Sundquist, Rene Verbrugghe, Adolph Lippens, Marcel Jodocy, Lewellyn Larson, Ted McFadden, Vincent Rappette, Clayton Ford, John Solis and Emil Skrobiak.

Sweetheart Awaits Brain of Alcatraz Back In Illinois

Los Angeles, Nov. 8 (AP)—The so-called "brain" of Alcatraz prison has some business to dispose of, quickly, and then there's the matter of an old romance.

Cecil Wright earned the nickname for legal studies which freed him after 18 years. He hopes to leave for Charleston, Ill., in a day or two to visit Miss Beulah Brimberry, who was his high school sweetheart.

Wright is now 41 and Miss Brimberry, 40. He told reporters that when he telephoned her she said she wanted him to come home to "talk about getting married."

In Charleston Miss Brimberry declined to comment. She is a floorlady for a shoe manufacturing plant there.

Wright was released from Alcatraz Saturday, successful in his 13th attempt to gain freedom on a writ of habeas corpus. Originally he was convicted of a $243 postoffice robbery at Strasburg, Ill.

He's here conferring with his lawyer about possible sale of his life story to the movies, radio and magazines.

Holy Land Peace Dickers Reported

(By The Associated Press)

Talk persisted today that both Egypt and Trans-Jordan are dealing for peace with the Jewish state of Israel. The talk was pretty generally denied in official quarters.

The United States was reported opposed to a British plan to extend a U. N. withdrawal order to Jewish troops to include newly won positions in northern Palestine. The council already has ordered withdrawals in the Negev in the south.

Brig. Gen. William E. Riley, chief of the U. N. truce mission in Palestine, was said to have told Arab representatives in Paris their governments had better make peace with Israel, because their military positions are hopeless.

Heart Attack Fatal To Arthur LeDuc, Funeral Thursday

Arthur F. LeDuc, 59, life-long resident of Escanaba, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at 6:45 this morning at his home, 217 South 18th street.

He was born in Escanaba December 23, 1888, and lived here all of his life. He was a graduate of St. Ann's school. For many years he was employed by the Delta County Road Commission and more recently at Beaudry's garage in Gladstone.

He was a veteran of World War I, a member of St. Ann's church and the Holy Name society and also of the American Legion.

Surviving are his wife, the former Mabel Lain, one daughter, Mabel; and two sisters, Mrs. John Smith of Gladstone and Mrs. Dave Scanland of Saskatchewan, Canada.

The body will be in state at the Allo funeral home Wednesday at 9 a. m. Services will be conducted by Rev. Fr. Clifford Nadeau at St. Patrick's church Thursday at 9 a. m., and burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery. Military rites will be conducted by the veterans' organizations.

Income Tax Cut Revision Favored

rates ranging from 12.6 per cent in the low income brackets to five per cent at the top.

Fiat Slash Proposed

Eberharder did not say what sort of revisions he thinks Mr. Truman has in mind. But in his own tax reduction proposal early this year, the President suggested that each person be allowed a $40 "cost of living" tax cut—a plan that would make the percentage saving big for low-income people but tiny for those in the high brackets.

The President estimated the cost of his plan at $3,200,000,000. He proposed that amount be made up by an excess profits tax.

Fourteen men inducted in the pre-induction call were disqualified.

Presidential Tenure Will Be Limited

TWENTY-ONE STATES have ratified the proposed constitutional amendment under which a president would be limited to two terms in office. The ratification by 15 additional states is required before the amendment is adopted. Ratification by the necessary two-thirds of the states must come within a period of seven years, dating back to 1947 when the proposal was approved by Congress.

A vice president who succeeded to the president could be elected to two full terms in his own right, providing he did not serve more than two years of his predecessor's unexpired term. A special exception was made in the case of President Truman, who could seek reelection in 1952 if he desires to do so. He says now that he is not interested in what would amount to a third term.

The merits of the proposal are self evident. The amendment is designed to prevent an individual from building a political hierarchy that could lead to dictatorship and accepts the theory that in a country with the vastness and intelligence of the United States, no individual is indispensable.

An even more important need for revision of our political structure, however, is the outmoded and unwieldy electoral college. A movement towards this end probably will be launched in the next session of Congress.

The electoral system, under which a state gives all of its electoral votes to the candidate attaining a majority within that state, permits a candidate to be elected president of the United States, even though a majority of the voters in the country at large may indicate a preference for another candidate. It is a system that fails to fulfill the highest level of democracy.

A Republican in a traditional Democratic southern state, for instance, virtually loses his franchise under this system, as does a Democrat in a state that is traditionally Republican.

In the past, efforts to rectify this situation have been vigorously opposed by the south but the southerners are now realizing that the system works to their disadvantage, too. The certainty that the south will land in the Democratic electoral column has reduced the south's bargaining power in their efforts for legislation favorable to the south.

The time is approaching when the inequities of the electoral system are being generally recognized, offering a promise for early correction.

Respect For Law

RESTRICTIONS against the use of outside incinerators in the Escanaba fire zone were written into the ordinance in 1925 as a fire prevention measure. Because of objections from business firms, the ordinance has never been enforced.

It now develops that a number of businessmen find these outside incinerators objectionable and want them eliminated. As a result the ordinance of 1925 will finally be enforced and the incinerators will be outlawed.

There is, we believe, an important lesson in these developments. Remember that the prohibition against burners was established as a fire prevention measure. The present decision to enforce the ordinance, however, is not predicated upon the fire prevention angle, but rather upon the fact that the incinerators are found to be objectionable in the smoke and garbage odors that they disseminate.

Escanaba will be an improved community by the elimination of the outside incinerators. Their use should have been stopped in 1925. It is not good government to adopt a restrictive ordinance designed for the common good and then ignore the ordinance. Ordinances that are not going to be enforced should simply be repealed to maintain general respect for law.

We should like to see a study committee examine the numerous ordinances supposedly in effect and determine if any other ordinances are deliberately being ignored from the standpoint of law enforcement. If so and if they are ignored because of an accepted belief that they are undesirable, the council should promptly proceed with their repeal. Any other course invites contempt for law.

CIO Challenges Ferguson

THE CIO and the AFL have joined in a threat to bar Senator Ferguson of Michigan from his Senate seat. Senator Ferguson, who was reelected to a second term last Tuesday, described the threat as "laughable."

Worse than that, the CIO-AFL action, if it actually does materialize, challenges the intelligence of Michigan voters. The CIO threat questions Ferguson's business connections, a charge that was made while the election campaign was in progress. Michigan voters indicated what they thought of those charges by reelecting Senator Ferguson to another six year term.

The CIO, of course, is piqued because its hand-picked candidate, Frank Hook of Ironwood, failed to unseat Ferguson in the election. If it were possible to bar Ferguson from taking his Senate seat, presumably the incoming governor, G. Mennen Williams, would appoint Hook to the vacancy.

The CIO threat can be shrugged off as a futile effort by organized labor to deprive the voters of Michigan of their own prerogative of choosing whom they please for their representative in the U. S. Senate. It is, as Senator Ferguson said, simply "laughable."

No More "Funny" Weeks

THE MAYOR of Bloomfield, N. J., William Huck, Jr., recently announced that he was through with proclaiming "funny weeks" and gave emphasis to his announcement by refusing to issue a proclamation for "chicken and cranberry sauce week."

Hurrah for the mayor of Bloomfield! There is considerable merit in such special weeks as National Fire Prevention Week, yes, and National Newspaper Week, in which the ideals of better citizenship are emphasized. The prostitution of this device to sell more chickens and cranberry sauce, however, hardly comes under the category of community interest. These are purely commercial promotions which seek to utilize the good offices of the mayors of America for selfish gain.

Mayor Huck has taken a sensible stand on this issue and we can only hope that it encourages his counterparts in cities throughout the United States to do likewise.

SWING YOUR PARTNER! (Grand Rapids Press)

There's no doubt that city folk—at least in these parts—have taken to square dancing in a big way. As evidence we have only to note that more than 350 persons were on hand for the season's first square dance at Franklin park lodge conducted by the public recreation department.

Well, it's great fun still, even though some of the features that used to make a country square dance a major event are now gone. Time was when attending such a frolic meant having to hitch up horse and buggy and driving for an hour or more, sometimes through a pelting rain or blizzard weather. Whenever that was the case, a person could really appreciate the opportunity of stamping his feet on oak planks and swinging his partner gaily. It all helped to get the circulation going properly again.

In those days, too, the "orchestra" consisted usually of a fiddle, a guitar or banjo, and perhaps a piano. But a fiddle was enough, so long as its player knew such favorites as "Old Zip Coon" and the "Irish Washerwoman." And somehow, even though the fiddler's tone was a little raucous and his technique uncertain, he got as excellent results as do the more pretentious orchestras of today, with their public address systems. The caller, too, managed to make himself heard. But, then, the dances were held in smaller places and there were fewer in attendance back in those times.

Always, too, there was the midnight snack, graced by the pickles and other food the womenfolk had put up in the fall. And home-made bread and cake and most anything else a body could ask for. Baby-sitting, of course, was unheard of; which is why there usually was a "retiring room" for the young. All this has changed. But not the dances themselves. Folks still cut the same figures when the caller barks "allemande left and a grand right and left." And maybe that's all that counts, anyway.

Dogs become mentally ill from associating with people, according to a Fort Collins doctor. They must be the ones that lead a dog's life.

It helps a lot in these mighty hard and trying times to have everybody trying mighty hard.

A Michigan gardener crossed an onion with a cabbage. Maybe for those who don't know whether they want liver or corn-beef.

It won't be long until the man is boss in his own home—if the rest of the family go away on vacation.

Now comes the season for dad to put up the screens so he can take 'em down again in the fall.

WORDS TO WATCH

Heard on a radio commercial: "Blank's is noted for its excellent kew-ZEEN." The word used is cuisine, a French loan word meaning "the kitchen; cookery." The word was used correctly; but the first syllable should not be pronounced "kew" to rhyme with "pew, few." Better say: kwi-ZEEN, or: kwee-ZEEN.

Overheard at a luncheon: "I'll take some of the pineapple sher-bert." There is no "bert" in the word s-h-e-r-b-e-r-t. But the "bert" pronunciation is so common that it is not unusual to see the erroneous spelling "s-h-e-r-b-e-r-t" in print, especially in bills of fare. Sherbet is from the Arabic sharbah, "a drink." Better say: SHER-bit, or: SHER-bit.

Heard on a radio commentary: "This action by the Soviets is nothing short of bahr-BAIR-ee-uss." The word used—bahr-rus—is not a four-syllable word like barbarity and barbarian. The only sanction pronunciation is: BAHR-buh-russ.

Q. On reading a symphony program recently I noticed that the flute players are listed as "flautists." Why is this, and how do you pronounce it?—I. J. P.

Pres. Truman Has Big Opportunity

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—A healthy political custom deeply rooted in tradition requires officeholders named by appointment to submit their resignations after an election has been held. This applies even though the incumbent president is returned to office.

It should certainly apply from top to bottom in the Truman administration. The president has an unparalleled opportunity to bring in new men chosen solely for their capacity.

The votes of organized labor and organized farmers weighed more heavily than any other factor. President Truman now must carry out the pledges he has made on housing, price controls, social security, public health, and aid to education.

FAT CATS AIDED G. O. P.

But this is not a personal debt of the kind incurred by most presidential candidates. There are no fat cats waiting on the doorstep of the White House to collect on the contributions they made to the party. The fat cats made all their contributions to the Republican party from which they expected to receive handsome favors.

Ordinarily these fat cats are paid off with ambassadorships and even with cabinet posts. Too often in the past they have received their reward regardless of fitness.

With the resignation of every cabinet member, every ambassador and a host of other resignations on his desk, the president has a chance to begin anew. It is almost as though a new party were coming into power. Appointments can be made not for money or for prestige and face but for ability.

Secretary of State Marshall, Secretary of Defense Forrestal and Undersecretary of State Lovett have long indicated that they wished to return to private life. They had made heavy sacrifices under the continuing burden of responsibility in a crisis. As soon as a transition can be effected without damage to business in hand, their wishes should be respected.

The president has kept on other men in important posts out of a mistaken sense of loyalty on both sides. They have considered that they were being loyal to a friend in a bad spot and they did not want to be accused of deserting the ship in distress.

OWES CRONIES NOTHING

The president's extraordinary victory has relieved them of any further responsibility. They can accept the lucrative private jobs that, according to their own twisted account, they have been refusing. Nor is the president under any further obligation to keep on old friends for loyalty's sake and past association.

That era ended on Tuesday. The nation today has a new president who owes nothing to his cronies. He is no longer the accidental heir of a political philosophy and a political organization.

During his years in the White House, the president's most frequent lament was that he could not get good men to accept office at government salaries. The reasons were obvious. No one believed that the Truman administration was anything more than an interim, caretaker government. And government salaries are a serious handicap which Democratic Congress can remove by approving moderate salary increases.

The same reasons do not apply today. The president has four years before him with a clear mandate and a Senate and House owing their majorities in no small part to him. Able men will serve if the president approaches them in the right way. There are reservoirs of ability and knowledge that have not been tapped. In the universities, in such organizations as the Foreign Policy Association and the Council on Foreign Affairs are skilled experts who can take responsibility.

They would come to Washington not because they want to take big houses and entertain in a showy way. They couldn't afford that even if they wanted it. They would come out of a sense of duty to work hard and earnestly.

It is possible, if President Truman only wills it, to bring an entirely new atmosphere to this capital. It would not be the naive, "roll up your sleeves and make over America" atmosphere of Rexford Tugwell and the early New Deal. Too many sobering realities have intervened to induce such wishful illusions.

But a new Truman administration could introduce the kind of expertise that Governor Dewey talked so much about. Efficiency alone is not enough, but neither are warmhearted good intentions.

A flautist is from the Italian flautista "a player on the flute." Among serious musicians the word flautist is usually preferred to flutist, the regular English word. But the instrument is called a flute, and not by the Italian name flauto.

The correct pronunciation of flautist is: FLAW-tist.

Watch the word pamphlet. The word is often pronounced, and even spelled, "pam-plet." Note that the second syllable is -plet. Of course, "ph" always has the sound of "f." Hence the correct pronunciation is: PAM-flet.

One of the most curious mispronunciations to come to my notice recently occurred during a conversation with an educated and intelligent Southern woman. She spoke of the pain from a finger which was infected by a "SLY-vuh." I could not understand how a saliva could get in her finger, and asked her to explain it to me.

"Why," she said, probably surprised at my nonsense, "it was a SLY-vuh from a piece of wood!"

She was speaking, of course, of a splinter. She was genuinely shocked to learn that she had always mispronounced the simple word.

Everyone's Out of Step But Joe

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

THE SUNNY SIDE—After the turn of the century in the Upper Peninsula many of the big landowners were lumbermen. The pine was gone and the hardwood was going fast.

The lumber companies foresaw the day when the land must be put to some other use than growing timber. So they advertised their lands for sale to prospective farmers. It will be admitted they had a selfish motive — yet many lumbermen had a sincere desire to see the Upper Peninsula prosper. And they had a firm conviction that the land would yield good crops because agriculture had been proved successful on many large "company farms."

The I. Stephenson Company Trustees of Wells conducted a vigorous land sales and promotion program back in 1915. We have before us a booklet called "The Story of Cloverland, 400,000 fertile acres on the Sunny Side of Cloverland," published by the Stephenson company trustees as an invitation to the "homeseekers." The "Sunny Side of Cloverland" included a large tract of Delta county now in prosperous farms. Predictions of agricultural success in 1915 have, at least in part, been proven true.

UNINVITED—The agricultural possibilities of the Upper Peninsula went unrecognized for 200 years. As early as 1679 at St. Ignace, Sieur de LaMothe Cadillac, commandant of the French fort there, described the Upper Peninsula in derogatory terms. Corn would not ripen, the land produced only wild game and fish, making daily rations of rum necessary for the soldiers as an antidote for the bad food, he complained.

But because Cadillac wanted the French king to establish him at Detroit, he praised the Detroit area to the sky. Citrons, melons, plums, grapes and other fruits grew to amazing size at Detroit. The climate at Detroit was wonderful, but it was terrible in the Upper Peninsula. People in France believed this, and the derogation of the U. P. was firmly started. The English looked upon the Upper Peninsula only as a place of wilderness outposts where trade was conducted with the savages. And later in the halls of the United States congress there was heard the charge that Northern Michigan was a wasteland of sand and swamp, unfit for human habitation.

The Upper Peninsula came into Michigan statehood unwanted, scorned and unwanted; thrown as son to Lower Michigan people when the Michigan-Ohio Indiana line was established to give the two latter states some Michigan territory.

THE FAITHFUL—The Indians practiced agriculture in the Upper Peninsula, growing corn, squash and beans. They made large quantities of maple sugar. First white settlers found the land suitable for gardens, but trading and lumbering were their chief interest. Miners employed in the iron and copper mines located in even the northernmost sections of the U. P. found mining not only possible but profitable. Lumbering and mining companies established big "com-

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba.—U. S. Senator Prentiss M. Brown will talk at a pre-election Democratic rally at the Coliseum here Monday night.

Manistique.—Democratic candidates won the majority of the votes cast by the Manistique junior high school students in a mock election held yesterday.

Gladstone.—Bill Frank of Gladstone, student at Michigan State College and business manager of the college year book, attended a convention of the American Collegiate Press association in Cincinnati.

Escanaba.—Andy Varipapa, rated as the world's greatest bowler, will give an exhibition at the Arcade bowling alleys Friday, Nov. 13.

Twenty Years Ago

New York.—John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, at 12:40 o'clock this morning conceded the election of Herbert Hoover. Governor Alfred E. Smith sent the following telegram to Hoover: "I congratulate you heartily on your victory and extend to you my sincere good wishes for your health and happiness and for the success of your administration."

Escanaba.—Three boys were born on Tuesday, election day, at St. Francis hospital. Their parents are: Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey of Rock, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Duchaine of Escanaba and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bisson of Escanaba.

Many farms" where much of their supply of foodstuff was grown. These people had faith in the Upper Peninsula that no outside pessimism could dampen. When lumbering began to decline there was organized a plan to boost the U. P. as an agricultural region. For advertising purposes the U. P. was called "Cloverland" and the U. P. Development Bureau was organized—not to attract tourists but prospective farmers.

INDUCEMENTS—In August, 1913, Michigan's legislature adopted a law exempting from taxation settlers on cut-over or wild lands for five years from the time of their settlement.

The I. Stephenson company lands were offered for sale at prices ranging from $10 to $25 an acre for cut-over land. A "reasonable" down payment was asked, the rest to be paid over a period of years.

The Michigan department of agriculture and the U. S. department of agriculture were beginning to be interested in U. P. agriculture and were cooperating in assisting farmers.

Cooperative purebred bull associations were organized with the encouragement of the U. P. Development Bureau.

THE REWARDS—Today agriculture in the Upper Peninsula is thriving. Many of the most successful farmers are those who purchased land back in the "Move to Cloverland" days of high-powered advertising.

In its booklet of 1915 the I. Stephenson company reports that potato yields in Delta county ranged from 200 to 400 bushels an acre. Today Delta county boasts of yields in the 800 bushel class; dairying is prosperous. The end is not yet in sight. There is much work yet to be done, however, if the full possibilities of farming in the U. P. are to be realized. Yet so much has been accomplished that no longer is heard the taunting comment that the Upper Peninsula climate is good only for "growing beards and chilblains"

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

New York, (AP)—The political pollsters say they are going to try and check into what's wrong with their polls.

This is a fine idea. But Noah didn't wait until after the flood to buy a rain gauge. He started building his ark in dry weather.

The pollsters presented in their election forecasts what they termed a cross-section of America. But they must feel now it was a double-cross section.

What America would like to see is a cross-section of a few pollsters. It shouldn't be hard to get. At the moment any section of a pollster is likely to be pretty cross.

Perhaps the most depressing aspect of the whole situation is the number of horrible puns that are springing up like dandelions. Such as:

"Now that the election is over we must all poll together."

"You can tell a politician's drowning if he grabs at any stray vote."

"It wasn't the donkey's back that was broken by the last straw vote."

"Barber poles are still red, white and blue—but the election polls were read, wrong and blue."

"The Republicans are still asking, 'Where's Elmo?'"

"Give a candidate enough Roper and he'll hang himself."

"Harry is the first president to lose in a Gallup and win in a walk."

Looking back, it would seem that the basic trouble with pollsters is that they reversed the radio programs by asking the $64 question first. The only industry in which a man can safely start at the top is flagpole sitting.

Perhaps the poobahs of the polls would do better next time by asking a few warmup questions before the real campaign program begins. That way they could loosen up the voters and win their confidence before springing the pay-off query.

In the next four years, for example, they could practice up by tackling some old unanswered problems that never got settled in election years. A few samples:

"Why does it always rain after a man pays two-bits for a shoe-shiner?"

"Isn't it possible to take a picture of a family reunion without having three of your relatives look like zombies?"

"How many street beggars actually ride home in limousines after their day's work?"

"What do people who live on a shoe-string tie their future to?"

"How much does the average butcher's thumb weigh?"

"Why—even after 25 years of marriage—does a wife still close her eyes when her husband kisses her?"

"Why does the same husband keep his eyes open?"

A pollster once questioned whether Dr. Kinsey's method was scientifically accurate. But today he still stands as one of the few opinion-takers who hasn't been proved wrong.

He was wise enough to pick a subject that isn't put to a popular vote. Politics is a matter of public election—sex is still pretty much a matter of private selection.

But right or wrong, the political pollsters will always be with us. Their forecasts are really a kind of group paroxysm.

They are a son to every man's secret desire to know what his neighbors think—even though they are polls apart.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—My wife has been making things quite difficult for me ever since election day.

She talks about "that cute little Harry" and won't let me forget that I predicted he would not be re-elected.

"Such a nice little man," she says, "and he got no help from anyone. The liberals were against him, the conservatives were against him. Everybody was against him—but the people."

I have reminded her that at least I predicted a Democratic Senate and that I reaped a harvest of squawks and jeers even for doing that but she isn't satisfied.

"No, you can't alibi," she says. "I know you too well. That poor little man fighting all alone, and you discouraged him by predicting he would lose. Such a nice man, I just love him."

"Listen," say I gruffly. "Mrs. Truman isn't going to like hearing you say that about her husband. And I don't either. Love and politics don't mix."

"This wasn't politics," replies Mrs. P. "This was a lot bigger. This was bigger than any victory Roosevelt ever won, because Roosevelt never had Wallace and the Dixiecrats running against him. I want you to tell everyone what a really great victory this was."

"They don't need me to tell 'em," I argue back. "They know it. Besides I tried to call the shots all during the campaign. I said a lot of nice things about the president. I was about the only one who defended his idea of sending Chief Justice Vinson to Moscow. I compared his courageous war record with Dewey's farm draft deferment. I told about his devout desire for peace and his reluctance to drop the atomic bomb. I defended him on a whole raft of things. But..."

"Yes, I know your alibi," says the wife, not even willing to let me finish what I was going to say. "The Republican editors cut all the nice things you said out of the column. So what? Then say them on the radio where you aren't censored."

"I want you to come out on the radio," she demands, "and give Harry a great big hand. You're chairman of 'Be Kind to Pussy Week'—why don't you start a 'Be Kind to Harry Week'?"

"Incidentally, you're always going in for democracy contests and slogans," continues Mrs. P., who is now really steamed up. "I'll give you a slogan free. You won't have to pay me $20,000 in prizes. Here it is: 'Don't Hamper Harry, Help Him.'"

MESSAGE TO TRUMAN

Well, that ended that. However, Mrs. P., who has good sense about most things (except pigs), hit the nail right on the head.

It was a great victory, in a sense greater than Roosevelt's victories because Truman fought it singlehanded, with a divided party, and with an extra quota of nonpaying deadheads dragging their feet on his bandwagon.

So, to the President of the United States I would like to say:

"Although I was wrong in predicting your defeat, I am glad I was wrong. And after that grand fight you put up, and regardless of any names you may have called me, I don't know anyone I would rather eat humble pie for than a good sport and a great battler like you."

"You, Mr. President, now have your own mandate from the people. You won it entirely on your own. You need feel no inferiority complex that you were a political accident who came into office through another man's choice."

"Nor need you feel any obligation to some of the cabinet Judases who buttered you up to your face, while making deals with the enemy behind your back; nor to others in your official family who don't pull their full weight on the oar. The people will applaud if you get rid of them; if you banish entirely all government-by-cronies."

"The nation is expecting big things of you, Mr. President—big things in extremely trying times."

"For my part I would much rather write the good than the bad. And though I know you believe in fair criticism, I for one would like to urge that we work, strive, give as a united nation and 'Help Harry, Not Hamper Him' to make democracy live."

ELECTION-WENT-ROUND

Flushed friends of Harry Truman were talking with him at Independence, Mo., regarding the chief factor behind his victory. He said it was hard work. "I grew up on a farm where you have to work for what you get," remarked the president. "While Truman's campaigning undoubtedly won him votes, Wallace's didn't. Here are the tell-tale figures: Of Wallace's 986,771 votes, 844,189 came from eight states. The rest of the country where he gathered crowds just didn't vote for him. In other words, 40 states were not affected by his trips or his radio broadcasts. . . The only cabinet members who really worked for the re-election of their chief were Attorney General Tom Clark, Secretary of Agriculture Charlie Brannan and Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin. They rolled up their sleeves. . . New Speaker Sam Rayburn has grave doubts as to whether the new Congress will tolerate Congressman J. "Kickback" Thomas, regardless of whether he is convicted for taking salary kickbacks from clerks and stenographers. . . Republican Governor Kim Sigler of Michigan was defeated by a young

G.O.P. IS TOLD TO CHEER UP

Santa May Come In '52
Bob Ruark Says

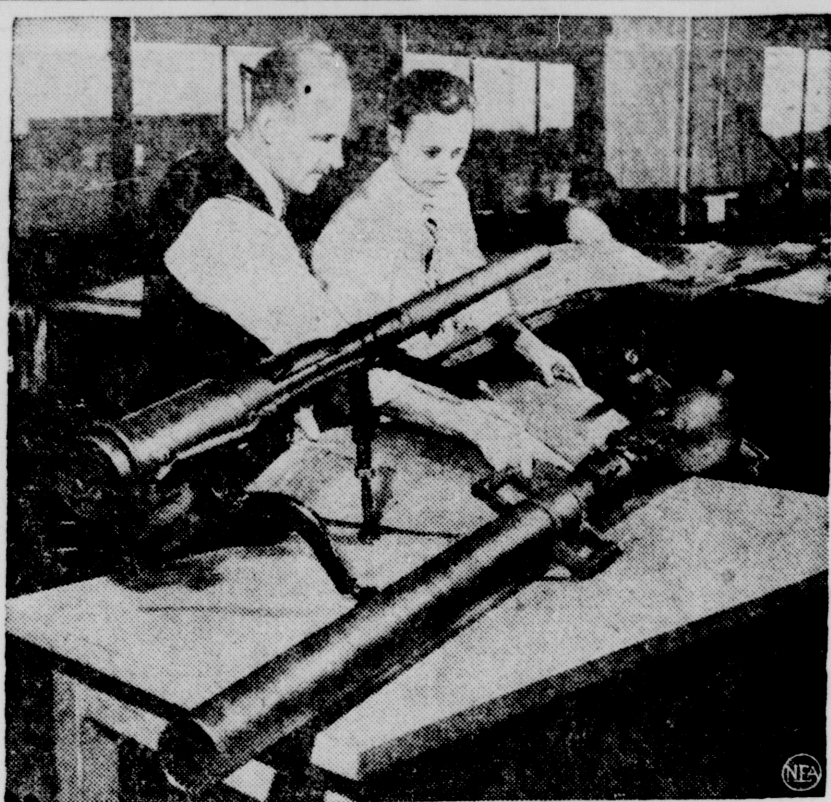

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—One notable thing has been accomplished by Harry's upset—it now is possible to feel sorry for a Republican, again, without being accused of either Fascism or being in thrall to wall. I have always stoutly maintained that Republicans were human, just like you and me, and should be treated accordingly. Cut them, they bleed; tickle them, they burst into tears. They have appetites and pay taxes and some even may go to heaven when they die—although there are people who will argue that one with you.

Me, I feel sorry for Republicans. I feel especially sorry for Mr. Dewey, who is a cinch to spend the rest of his life alternately kicking himself in the pants and dodging bad gags about the man who almost made it. I am sure Mrs. D. would never throw any recriminations at him, in one of those uxorious difference in the nest, but can you imagine what a rage cutting tool an average, angry wife could make of the two words "Mister President"? ooh. I shudder.

Just Like Santa
The reason I feel sorry for Republicans is they've been out of the money, so long, and here they finally get a chance to get back in the barrel. They were like children long fenced off from Christmas, told at last that Santa was coming, for true, and he was gonna bring 'em a doll, a bicycle, a sled, a bellyache from icecream, a pony...

While visions of long-delayed sugarplums danced through their heads, they stood around and gloated. The old bum with the beard was going to slide down the chimney and everybody would have everything, at long last. Boom. Short bulletin from S. Claus. "So sorry. Chimney too small. Regret must leave everything at Harry's house. See me again in four years—and meantime, you might remodel the chimney," ooh.

Too Much Confidence
Last summer, at the conventions, you could feel the sparkling Republican confidence; you could smell the Democratic odor of defeat as far away as Wilmington, Del. The Reps preened themselves and strutted like pigeons with a crop full of emeralds. The Dems slunk around in corners and looked woeful. No man among 'em expected anything but sure defeat, and plans for party rehabilitation already were being drawn. The Republicans, conversely, were already talking about how to spend the money.

ARTILLERY FOR EVERY SOLDIER — Engineers and designers have been working for months to speed up a tremendous output of artillery for the U. S. armed forces. Allen Papik, left, and Francis Marshman check production drawings for the 75-mm. rifle clamp at the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, O., now producing 57-mm. and 75-mm. recoilless rifles.

The good book says that pride goeth before a fall, but in this case it didn't goeth. It fattened and grew and swelled until the boys romanced themselves into believing they had it hogtied. The only man on both sides who put any stock in the claim that the meek would inherit was old Harry himself, and he knocked off his meekness to become a roaring lion. Wound up with all the rich, smart kids over in the corner, writing "I will not count my chickens before they are hatched" 5000 times on the slate, while Harry picked up all the marbles.

During the famine season for the GOP—FDR's sway—you expected 'em to get murdered every four years, and wasted no sympathy when the ax fell. But they had been playing president with such pathetic eagerness since the last conventions, they were so blandly cocky about poor old Harry and the decadent donkey, that I'm downright sorry for 'em now. That's right, Republicans. Have a good cry and you'll feel better.

And remember that all disappointment is tempered with good. You have now become the sympathetic underdog, and when anybody flings fruit at you, Mr. Truman will be properly indignant. Even I can be publicly grieved about poor old Tommy without being condemned as a black reactionary. Remember that Jack Dempsey achieved his first greatness in defeat. And four years isn't such a long time, children. If you're real good, maybe Santa will come again—but this time you better wait until you hear the

President of GM Doffs His Hat To Engineer Truman

Detroit, Mich., (AP)—"As an engineer," President C. E. Wilson of General Motors Corp. takes off his hat to President Truman.

Wilson, in a speech to an automobile industry group Thursday, observed with respect to Mr. Truman's successful election campaign:

"As an engineer, I have a great deal of respect for a good technician and President Truman has proven himself one."

Wilson is a Republican but he said the result of the election wasn't going to disturb him.

"We choose one group or another—always what is best for the country," he said. "Only in our country, with its concept of freedom, can such a thing happen."

GM's president addressed the Automotive & Aviation Parts Manufacturers Association's annual meeting. He said the election would have no effect on the automobile business.

Fan Blows Smoke Into Mine; 5 Dead At Kitzmiller, Md.

Kitzmiller, Maryland (AP) — A shed housing a ventilating fan of a coal mine caught fire Thursday, the fan blew the smoke into the mine shaft, and five men were suffocated.

A sixth man, George Nethken, escaped and gave the alarm. But rescue squads were unable to revive the five men, who had been caught in a "pocket" of smoke, less than 150 feet from the entrance of the horizontal shaft, authorities reported.

The dead were identified as: Robert Jackson, 25, "outside man" at the mine who had gone into the shaft to warn the others; Clarence Keller, 60, and his brothers, Herman, 42, and Martin, 61;

Charles Kifer, 45, of Mt. Storm, W. Va.

Jackson and the Kellers were residents of this small Western Maryland mountain community.

How to Celebrate Your Wedding Anniversary

The "Dutch" Millers celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary Saturday. Everything had to be tin. Folks even ate off tin plates, and drank coffee out of tin cups.

When it was time to drink a toast to the "bride and groom," out came the final touch: ice cold beer in cans. And come the Millers' 15th anniversary (Glass) I expect we'll be toasting them with sparkling beer in bottles!

And I couldn't help thinking that there was a lesson for married folks in the way Dutch and his missus have got along together—in their policy of live-and-let-live, with never a criticism of each other's differences in taste.

From where I sit, it's due to two things: Temperance—as that moderate preference for beer suggests, and Tolerance—for their own differences of opinion—and for the tastes of others, whether applied to beer, to politics, or how to celebrate an anniversary.

Winter Sports Council Planning U. P. Events

An Upper Peninsula calendar of winter sports events will be drawn up and distributed soon and the U. P. Development bureau will be asked to publish an annual winter sports bulletin covering all activities and facilities in the peninsula, it was reported this morning by George Grenholm, Escanaba recreation director, who yesterday attended a U. P. Winter Sports council meeting at the Ishpeming winter sports lodge.

Escanaba, Sault Ste. Marie, Manistique, Marquette, Negaunee, Ishpeming, Houghton and Newberry were represented at the session, which was highlighted by the reading of several reports on the various winter sports activities.

Newberry will be host to the Queen of the North contest the second weekend in February, Grenholm said. The council went on record as favoring a distinctive Upper Peninsula queen contest at the U. P. State fair in Escanaba instead of an overall fair queen contest with winners of several varied contests participating. The consensus was that the U. P. fair contest should be in the nature of a finals for such U. P. winners as the Queen of the North, U. P. potato queen and U. P. health queen.

Negaunee will conduct a U. P. figure skating free style meet the first weekend in February, Grenholm said, but Escanaba and Sault Ste. Marie clubs will not be eligible to compete because they are members of the United States Figure Skating association, which bars them from participating in free style events of this nature.

Les Lehman, former president of the Ishpeming Ski club and a national director, gave a detailed report of ski jumping, including the showing of color movies in slow motion of the performance of famed Norwegian jumpers in the 1947 national meet held at Ishpeming's Suicide hill.

Efforts are being made to have the National Ski association designate Ishpeming as the site of a national ski museum, inasmuch as Ishpeming is recognized throughout the country as the birthplace of ski jumping in the United States and site of the first national ski jumping meets.

Constitution and by-laws of the reorganized U. P. Winter Sports council were presented by Grenholm and were accepted by the group, which was the largest group ever to attend a winter sports council meeting in the peninsula.

The session ended with a dinner at the winter sports lodge.

Clearly Proclaims Sadie Hawkins Day At Mount Pleasant

Mt. Pleasant — Central Michigan College bachelors have set aside their razors in preparation for Sadie Hawkins Day, which has been proclaimed for Friday, Nov. 12. The self enforced shaving ban went into effect Friday, Nov. 5 and will remain enforced until 2 a. m. Nov. 13.

So that all Central Michigan College co-eds will be given an equal opportunity to catch their man, Warren Cleary, president of the Student Senate, has proclaimed this week as "She Shaves Saga." However, the real fireworks won't start until Friday noon when the Co-eds will begin tagging their "Lil' Abners." Central's women will be given tags on Thursday night which will read, "This man belongs to . . . . . Tagged men must wear the ticket the remainder of the week." Central's feminine population won't have to work hard if they want a man, as enrollment figures reveal that there are 1,063 single men on campus as compared to 768 single women.

A greased pig chase will be held at 4 p. m. Friday afternoon (November 12) at Alumni Field. The individual who is capable of catching the pig will be allowed to keep it. The public has been invited to participate in the chase.

A dance in the gymnasium at 8:30 Friday night will aid in bringing the Sadie Hawkins activities to a close. The dance will end at 11 p. m. Persons attending the dance will come attired in "Dogpatch Costume."

MORE OUTPUT IS GREAT NEED

Babson Offers Incentive System As Aid

By Roger W. Babson
New York City.—One of our great national headaches today seems to be getting our production to rolling and maintaining it at a good level.

Daily headlines in our own newspapers read, "Carpet Manufacturers Announce Price Increases to Offset Higher Costs of Materials", "International Harvester Ups Prices On Tractors, Farm Equipment", "Meat Prices Due To Rise Further", "Gas Rates Boosted", "New Ford Car Prices Advanced". And here's the result: "Bank Accounts Trimmed as Cost of Living Takes Bigger Chunk of Income". All because labor refuses to up production along with higher wages.

French cabinets have fallen by the dozen over the question of labor-management problems, and wage and price controls. The British Labor government in its attempts to increase production along with wage increases has become the target of sharp criticism of its Trade Unions. The same currents and eddies are observable throughout the entire world. The Russian ideology is spreading too rapidly to other nations. This can be stopped only with lower prices through increased production.

The Easy Life
The recent Trade Unions Congress assembled at Margate, England, suggested that unionists were bitterly disappointed over the Labor Government's unfavorable reaction to another round of wage rises. They had been told for years of the hoard of wealth waiting for them when workers gained control. There is a similar pernicious philosophy current here in America. When will our labor leaders learn that the way out of their dilemma is not by soaking the rich further? As wages and salaries are increased, production must likewise increase. Otherwise, prices will be upped so that we will kill the geese which are laying the golden eggs.

There is something fundamentally wrong with our moral fibre when demands for one pay hike after another follow with thought only of shorter hours, longer vacations, less production, and more pay. That kind of thinking did not make America great. It was not responsible for Britain's world leadership during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Perhaps this desire for something for nothing has been a potent factor in Britain's slipping into a lesser role in world affairs.

COAL SILO—The cylindrical building recently erected at the Escanaba steam plant, subject of numerous queries by local residents, is a coal silo, destined to store the coal used in operation of the steam plant. The silo holds 75 tons of live storage, feeding directly to the boilers, and 205 tons of dead storage. Elevator equipment is on order and will be installed late in December.

Need For Production
When I was a kid the good old-fashioned incentive system was based on more pay for more or better work. In return for a better than normal daily output, a worker was given extra financial inducement. It was this greater output that brought about more goods at lower prices which found bigger markets. The employee in turn could afford to buy houses and furniture for cash because he had shared in the profits of greater productivity. Everyone gained. Our standard of living became the best in the world.

I realize the incentive system has been abused by some managements with hide-and-seek incentive hocus-pocus. But most employers today know that it is as silly for them to attempt to run profitably by sweating labor as it is for labor to expect higher wages without reference to output. Labor and management have both erred. They both have their rights. Labor's search for a living wage and management's quest for justifiable profits will not be ended, however, by either the stopwatch and the slide-rule, nor by artificial restrictions and formulae legislation.

Importance Of Character
The solution lies in developing certain intangible traits of character. And when I speak of character, I'm not thinking of Sunday school goody-goodyies either. I'm thinking of an attitude of fairness which makes it possible to see the other fellow's problems. I mean courage, loyalty, sincerity and pride in one's work, giving full measure. Character can't be measured; but put to work it results in health, prosperity and happiness for all.

Kansas City Street May Honor Truman

Kansas City, Missouri (AP)—The city council is going to reconsider a proposal to change the name of a street to Truman Road.

The proposal has been pigeon-holed for two and one half years. Said Councilman Reed O. Gentry: "We intend to discuss the matter today. To my mind the only question is whether the naming of the street is a high enough honor for our president."

The move to change 15th street to Truman Road was referred to a council committee in February, 1946. There has been no further action on it.

Kibby Treiber
Named Director
Of Bridge League

Kibby Treiber was elected a member of the board of directors of the Delta Bridge League Saturday evening, to fill the unexpired term of E. J. Kremer, who recently was transferred from Escanaba to Lansing. Mr. Kremer served on the league board for many years.

The Saturday evening regular session was well attended with several new members joining the league. The special section for new members continues to be well received. Enough experienced members are scattered throughout to assist the newcomers. This section will be operated as long as desired by the new members. The league cordially invites interested bridge players to attend as guests for their first three sessions.

The next regular meeting will be held Friday, November 12, at the Elks club. Registrations begin at 8 p. m. and will close at 8:15.

For some time members have been desirous of learning the theory of match point scoring and arrangements have been made to explain the scoring process. A pedestal pad will be used and the figures will be large enough for all persons in the room to read. The explanation will be made either before or immediately upon conclusion of play—while the scoring committee is at work on the evening's score sheets. The membership will be asked to decide the time preferred.

Pairs scoring 50 per cent or over Saturday night were:

Heir-Presumptive
May Arrive This Coming Week End

London, Nov. 8. (AP)—Britons generally believe Princess Elizabeth's baby probably will arrive at Buckingham palace Saturday or Sunday.

They arrived at that calculation from a mass of gossip, fancy and information available in London as world-wide interest in the impending arrival of the second-in-line heir presumptive to the British throne rises to a crescendo here.

The princess is in excellent health and spirits. Some of the excitement attendant to the birth of her first child has penetrated the palace, to the evident amusement of Elizabeth.

"Why does everyone make such a fuss?" she laughed. "I'm not the only woman who is going to have a baby."

The newspapers have virtually agreed that Sir William Gilliat, the princess' obstetrician, will use the pain-killing drug, trileptal, at the birth. They report an automatic inhaler for administering this drug has been delivered to the miniature "hospital" in the palace which will be used as a delivery room.

The palace spokesman and Sir William himself refuse to discuss what sort of pain-killer, if any, will be used and there is no confirmation that any special equipment has been delivered at the palace.

In Hardware Age

A phase of merchandising employed by the Multhaupt Brothers Hardware, has won recognition in a big way. In the current issue of "Hardware Age," one of the leading trade publications of the country, an article captioned "Record Department Steps Up Traffic in New Store," tells of the way their music record department has helped promote their business in general.

The article, in part, says: "A new store needs a great deal of traffic in order to achieve a high ratio of sales in a competitive market, and when Ben and Len Multhaupt opened a hardware store in Manistique, Mich., late in April they installed a well placed record department for this purpose."

"To date the record department has achieved two purposes, according to Ben Multhaupt. It has attracted an excellent volume of traffic and has proven to be a highly profitable department."

The article states further, "Len and Ben Multhaupt, both war veterans, lay great emphasis on store traffic because they have had varied merchandising experience. Len has worked as an appliance salesman for several firms since his return from the armed service, while Ben served several years as secretary for the Manistique Chamber of Commerce."

The two owners and Mrs. Helen Davenport who has had charge of the record department, are in the picture which accompanies the article.

DEER HUNTERS
ON WAY NORTHAsked To Register At State Police Station

Clearing weather, a slight tang in the air suggesting that snow is soon on the way has probably brought deer season plans of down state hunters to a head.

At any rate the first vanguard of warmly clad and heavily booted tourists has put in its appearance. Most of these are men who have gone on ahead to prepare camp, get accommodations in readiness and sit in a few extra games of poker.

Sergeant Kenneth White, of the local state police headquarters, strongly urges that all hunters who expect to operate in this area should call at the state police headquarters and register, telling where they may be found in cases of emergency. This thoughtful consideration on the part of hunters may serve them well. Every season, Sergeant White states, requests come to the police headquarters to help find this or that hunter. Sometimes there's serious illness or death in the family and sometimes important business matters are at stake. At any rate, these who register are promptly notified while those who are not, if found at all are more often than not located after considerable delay.

The deer season opens November 15th.

Sewer Extension
Delayed By Lack Of Sewer Pipes

Work on the new sewer extension to serve residents living on Elm and New Elm streets is now well under way, but work has had to be suspended for the time being because sewer pipe, ordered some time ago, has not arrived.

Considerable difficulty with water seepage has also been experienced. The trenches have rapidly filled with water and the presence of sand and muck in the water has made the use of fire pumps inadvisable. For that reason the work has been tied up until the pipe has arrived so that the line may then be quickly laid.

Democrats Elect
39 Representatives
For Lansing House

Lansing, Mich., (AP)—Complete but unofficial returns of Tuesday's election revealed that Democrats had elected 39 members of the state house of representatives.

The office of the clerk of the House reported that Leann Harrelson of Pontiac had come from behind in the counting of the last precincts to defeat Rep. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Pontiac), the incumbent. This increased the previously reported Democratic representation by one.

The Democratic representation in the Senate remained at nine members.

Among incumbent Republican senators unseated by Tuesday's voting were Joseph P. Cloon of Wakefield, and Clarence A. Reid and Arthur E. Wood, both of Detroit.

Among the deposed Republican representatives were Paul Arnold of Detroit, Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, Louis H. Frye of Muskegon, George A. Gillespie of Gaines, James Goulette of Iron Mountain, Roy A. Jensen of Escanaba and Lodge.

New Diesel Oil
Decreases Wear

Tulsa, Okla., (SS) — A new lubricating oil capable of reducing wear in diesel engines as much as nine-tenths was revealed here to the Society of Automotive Engineers by the Shell Oil Company. It is a compounded heavy-duty type, which not only reduces wear but promotes engine cleanliness, possesses oxidation stability at high level, and excels conventional heavy-type oils in stability at high piston temperatures.

The lubricant even corrects corrosive wear and fouling, whether caused by operating conditions, sulphurous fuel, or both, the engineers were told by J. A. Edgar, J. M. Planterfer and R. F. Bergstrom, all of the Shell Company, Martinez, Calif. The contents were not revealed.

Red Wings Are Scorching!

Detroit, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings' hottest scoring spree of the young National Hockey League season had them enjoying their longest lead of the campaign today after a runaway 7 to 3 breeze past second place Boston last night at Olympia.

By handing the Bruins their second straight setback, Detroit hoisted its first place margin to four points over Boston and Montreal, now tied for second. The Bruins, however, have played two games less than the leaders and Montreal one.

Last night's fray was the wildest seen in Detroit this season on two counts.

Besides producing a scoring public for the Red Wings before

13,580 fans, the game wound up in a melee of 10 third period penalties assessed by Referee Frank (King) Clancy.

Two of them were majors given Jack Stewart of Detroit and Milt Schmidt of the Bruins for fighting and though the rest were minor penalties there wasn't anything "minor" about the going over Gordie Howe of Detroit gave Grant Warwick of the Bruins with his fists in the dying minutes of the fray.

Altogether Stewart drew four penalties, three of them in the torrid final period.

Although Detroit scored twice as many goals as the Bruins, Boston's Warwick was the only player on the ice who scored two.

4 Perfect Marks Broken; Penn, Ga. Tech, Nevada Bow; Tarheels Are Tied

Michigan, Notre Dame, Army, California, Clemson Are Nation's Big Five.

New York, Nov. 8 (AP)—The unbeaten-untied ranks of major college football teams, cut almost in half over the weekend, may be sliced near the middle again Saturday.

Only five schools—Notre Dame, Michigan, Army, California and Clemson—still have perfect records.

Both Army and Clemson face their toughest opponents of the season this week. The Cadets have the unpleasant task of meeting Pennsylvania at Philadelphia with Penn on the rebound from its 13-0 licking by Penn State. Clemson tangles with Wake Forest, 27-0 conqueror of Duke, at Winston-Salem, N. C.

And then there's the top game of the day—Northwestern vs. Notre Dame at South Bend.

The fighting Irish probably will win this one by several touchdowns, but the Wildcats definitely are above the average caliber of Notre Dame opponents this year.

Sooners Get Hot

Michigan and California shouldn't have much trouble in maintaining their records. The Wolverines entertain Indiana, which was trounced, 42-6, by Notre Dame Saturday. California plays host to Washington State Friday night.

Four perfect marks were broken Saturday and Sunday. In addition to Penn's defeat, Georgia Tech lost to Tennessee, 13-6; Nevada was downed by Santa Clara, 14-0, and William and Mary held North Carolina to a 7-7 tie.

One of the biggest surprises Saturday outside the unbeaten ranks was Oklahoma's 41-7 massacre of Missouri. The Sooners caught fire for 28 points in the third quarter after a 7-7 first half.

The victory made Oklahoma a good bowl possibility and probably Big Seven champion, providing it can get past Kansas, which was idle Saturday.

Southern Methodist took over first place in the Southwest Conference with an unimpressive 20-14 decision over Texas A. and M. while Texas dumped unbeaten but once tied Baylor, 13-10.

Army bolstered its claim that it has as powerful a club as in the days of Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard by smothering Stanford, 43-0, in New York.

Columbia Loses Again

In the Southeast Conference Georgia assumed the lead by defeating Florida, 20-12, as Georgia Tech was stumbling before Tennessee. Tulane, still in the title picture, stopped V. M. I., 28-7.

Oregon, which would like to win the nod over California as the West Coast's Rose Bowl representative, moved past Washington, 13-7, while California had little trouble with U. C. L. A., and won 28-13.

Northwestern, the probable Big Nine representative at Pasadena New Year's Day since Michigan is ineligible and the Notre Dame game won't count, whipped Wisconsin, 16-7. Michigan sank the Navy, 35-0.

In the East Columbia, which blew leads in the final minutes of its three-game conference card, this sends still very bowl-conscious Minnesota to Iowa. Ohio State, a dark-horse bowl contender, to Illinois; and reeling Indiana to Michigan, the Big Nine's best, but bowl-blocked team.

League-leading Michigan clouted Navy, 35-0, Saturday for its 21st straight win. Second-place Northwestern eased past Wisconsin, 16-7. Notre Dame belted Indiana 42-6, for the seventh Irish win of the season and 25th decision without defeat.

Northwestern's invasion of Notre Dame ostensibly gives the Irish their toughest test of the entire season. But the battle may be a costly one, win or lose, for the Wildcats, because the improving Illinois, an arch state rival, is waiting to spring a typical fightin' Illini ambush the following Saturday.

Northwestern last year gave the Irish a rousing argument before losing, 26-19, and then polished off Illinois, 28-13. But then the Wildcats weren't going anywhere, being careful underdogs in both contests.

This time, roses will be riding on the Illinois game. And the Wildcats better come out of the Notre Dame tilt in sound health and sound mind, or the bowl situation may be a mess on the Big Nine end.

Chappuis Finally Does It

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 8 (AP)—Bob Chappuis has finally come into his own in professional football.

Until yesterday's game with the Buffalo Bills, the former Michigan All-America had been a distinct 1st in the play-for-pay set. True, an injury hampered him early in the season. But at no time did the 190-pound halfback show the form that earned him All-America rating while at Michigan last year.

It is no secret that Branch Rickey, his current boss, has been deeply concerned over Chappuis, especially in view of the $55,000 two-year salary he is getting.

All that worry was erased yesterday, however. Outshining even his palmerst days at Michigan, Chappuis gave one of the greatest one-man exhibitions ever seen in the All-America Conference. Playing in all but 10 minutes of the game, Bob was strictly a one-man team on offense.

He smashed two league records, both in the air. He threw 51 passes and completed 26 of them. He gained 211 yards in the air and 49 on the ground. That accounted for all but 12 of Brooklyn's 265 yards gained. He tossed one Dodge touchdown, and set up another.

The Dodgers bowed to the Bills, 26-21, but that did not dim Chappuis' brilliance.

Irish, Northwestern Game Holds Football Spotlight This Week

Chicago, Nov. 8 (AP)—Strong scent of roses and powerful armor of Shamrock will envelop South Bend, Ind., Saturday when the Big Nine's Northwestern puts unbeaten Notre Dame on the football spot, or vice versa.

On the Big Nine slate, only their No. 20 date with Illinois stands between Northwestern's Wildcats and a Rose Bowl junket.

But the Cats, downed only by champion Michigan in five conference starts and two non-league jousts, will shoot the works against the unblemished Irish, like who doesn't.

And the Irish, shadow-boxing with also undefeated Michigan for national laurels via mutual opponents, undoubtedly will try to better the 28-0 decision scored by the Wolverines over Northwestern.

The rousing neighborhood scrap completely overshadows Saturday's three-game conference card. This sends still very bowl-conscious Minnesota to Iowa. Ohio State, a dark-horse bowl contender, to Illinois; and reeling Indiana to Michigan, the Big Nine's best, but bowl-blocked team.

League-leading Michigan clouted Navy, 35-0, Saturday for its 21st straight win. Second-place Northwestern eased past Wisconsin, 16-7. Notre Dame belted Indiana 42-6, for the seventh Irish win of the season and 25th decision without defeat.

Oosterbaan Pleased With Reserves' Play In Navy Shellacking

By John Mayhew

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 8 (AP)—The shadow of Notre Dame's Irish fell over the Wolverine practice field today as Michigan prepared for a return to the conference wars Saturday against Indiana.

Coaches and players, who scuttled Navy 35-0, insist their only interest is in beating the Hoosiers, comparative scores be hanged.

But for the fans, interest will be focused on whether the unbeaten Wolverines can match Notre Dame's 42-6 shellacking of Indiana last Saturday.

And that interest was heightened considerably by the fact that the Irish humbled Navy 41-7 a week ago, just one point short of Michigan's victory margin over Coach George Sauer's Sailors.

Coach Ben Oosterbaan pooh-poos the idea that the Irish figure in the Michigan strategy in any sense of the word.

He's always interested in the game behind and the game ahead. The game behind was a satisfaction to the Michigan coach who carried the Maize and Blue colors against the Navy as an All-America end in the mid-twenties.

"I thought the regulars did a fine job," he said. "But it was the spirit of the substitutes that impressed me."

Oosterbaan regarded the reserve performance as an indication that there are some "mighty fine football players" coming of age on Michigan's training grounds.

He was particularly pleased with a stocky Evanston, Ill. full-back, Don Dufek, whose chief fault seems to be "eagerness."

The varsity standout was Chuckin' Chuck Ortmann, the Milwaukee sophomore, number one aerialist of Michigan and the league.

But it wasn't Ortmann's passing that drew acclaim, it was his running.

The blond 186-pounder carried 18 times for a net of 42 yards. Though the total is not outstanding, the manner in which he ran was. He showed power and drive that presages a running game as dangerous as his aerial play.

Michigan rode easily to its 21st consecutive victory and the first time Navy has been shut out since Army downed the Sailors 21-0 in 1947.

The Wolverines rolled for 346 yards against the Navy's 119. And it was largely on the ground, where Michigan gained 288 yards to Navy's 73, that Michigan shone.

Ike Williams Gives Buddy Garcia A Big Opportunity Tonight

Philadelphia, Nov. 8 (AP)—Champion Ike Williams gives Buddy Garcia a fighting chance tonight to qualify for a lightweight title fight.

The obliging Trenton, N. J., better who defends his laurels at the scratch of a pen takes on the pell-mell and persistent Garcia in a 10-round over-the-weight contest that promises to fill the arena to capacity. Garcia, of Galveston, Tex., is pledged to scale above the 135-pound title weight and less than 140 for the most ambitious test of his ring career.

Williams' appearance here will be his first since he blasted Beau Jack at Shibe Park July 12. Since that fight he turned aside a title bid by Jesse Flores at Yankee Stadium, New York, on Sept. 23.

Garcia earned his bid for tonight's encounter with the champion by thrashing Jimmy Collins here on Oct. 4.

The Texan, who plans to study law at the University of Houston when he tosses aside the gloves, vows he'll display the hottest fight of his career. He and his veteran manager, Eddie Walker, have planned a rushing, bobbing body-whittling battle.

Buddy has never been knocked out. He said he will brave such disaster for an upset triumph.

Williams, having risked his title in his last three starts, began his run of successful championship defenses in Los Angeles last May 25 by defeating Enrique Bolanos in 15 rounds. Ring-wise fans declare the champion will have to come up with one of his sharper fights to beat Garcia.

Cleveland, Frisco Continue Winning Ways In The AAFC

New York, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns spent the past two Novembers primping for the All America Football Conference's championship game. But this month finds the Browns preparing for two clashes against the upstart San Francisco 49ers with the Western division title at stake.

The first of these two crucial games is slated for Cleveland's Lakefront Stadium Sunday. The second of the do-or-die clashes is scheduled for the 49ers' home gridiron two weeks after the Cleveland meeting.

Both of these powers tuned up for their important battle next week with triumphs yesterday. The Browns dumped the Baltimore Colts, 28-7, for their ninth straight victory and 2th over a two-year span. The 49ers racked up their 10th consecutive decision, trouncing the Chicago Rockets, 44-21, to stay a half game in front of the Browns.

The loss knocked the Colts out of first place in Eastern division chase in favor of the Buffalo Bills. The Bills tamed the Brooklyn Dodgers, 26-21. In the other conference game the New York Yankees humbled the Los Angeles Dons, 38-6.

IMPROVING THE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

If America's children are to grow up into self-governing citizens, they must have education suited to their needs. The shocking fact is that millions of them are not in school at all or get very meager advantages.

Library Adventure

By Arnold Mulder

Yet one more book has been done about Lincoln. Or to be strictly accurate, it is not about Lincoln himself, but it would never have been written if it had not been for Lincoln. It is a kind of indirect tribute to the Civil War President, its subject illuminated by reflected glory from Lincoln.

The book bears the title of "Lincoln's Herndon: A Biography." The author is David Donald. Although the volume purports not to be about Lincoln at all, you can imagine what chance it would have had to come to publication stage of the title had, for instance, been "William H. Herndon: A Biography." The volume enters the publishing lists of the present series on the coattails of America's Lincoln worship.

William H. Herndon was at one time fairly well known in his own right. Today perhaps not one in ten thousand would so much as identify his name. But for Lincoln there would not be the slightest incentive to publish a biography of the man, or the slightest chance that it would win any considerable reading public.

Herndon was the law partner of Lincoln, in Springfield, for 16 years, in the early career of the Civil War President. The two men were intimate, and Herndon for a time gave the impression of being the more dominating member of the law partnership. Also, he came into possession of a mass of intimate personal information about Lincoln the struggling lawyer that has gone into the Lincoln portrait the American people know. This information was all the more valuable because Herndon had no suspicion while he was absorbing it that his

Lansing Hitchhikers Held For Murder At Oklahoma City

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma (AP)—Two Lansing, Mich., men were being returned here Friday from Fort Worth, Texas, to face murder charges in connection with the hitchhike slaying Wednesday of Carl Beach of Corfu, N. Y.

The pair gave their names as Eugene Riskin, 18, and Max Eugene Klettke, 23.

District Attorney Al Clyde of Fort Worth said Riskin and Klettke admitted killing Beach, a retired New York Central railroad employee. He said at the time of their arrest they had $500 in war savings bonds made out to Beach in their possession.

The two were arrested at a downtown Fort Worth hotel after a parking lot attendant became suspicious of their bullet and blood-marked automobile and notified police. The car was Beach's 1937 model sedan.
